The Omni
Atlanta, GA

Welcome one and all to another round of "AR". Things have been crazy this past week with rumors concerning the future of the NWA. I have heard five different versions and I'll try to have the latest on it in my "Ramblings" column this issue. Thanks go out to Scott Hudson for the main report this issue. As you can see, it was held the day after "Capital Combat" so it should be interesting. We will have a review of the NWA PPV in this issue along with the latest "Cosmic Clothesline", Correspondent's Corner, and Letters To Ron. Also in this issue I am now making available, "Arena Report" baseball caps. They are black with gold lettering. They will sell for $8.00 a piece and that includes postage. There is an order form on the last page of this issue that you may use when ordering. (Makes sense right.) These are the same type hats you buy at ballparks with the mesh in the back. One size fits all. They are not silk screened but puff print which looks alot nicer. The inscription under "Arena Report" reads, "An "Inside" Wrestling Bulletin." If you wear it to arenas, just make sure Jimbo doesn't see it or he'll sick one of his goon squad after you.

Things will be hopping here at "AR" headquarters in the next couple of months. My next issue will be cover dated June 2nd as the Whiff invades Daytona Beach with a awful card. The night before, me and Klon will be attending an indy at Patrick's Air Force Base in Cocoa, FL as guests of Abdullah Farouk, Jr. I'll have a report on that as well. Columns by Evan Ginzburg and Mike Terry will grace that issue as well. I'll come right back the following week with a double report on the NWA invasion of Florida as we'll be hitting a house show in Orlando on the 9th and TV tapings in Ft. Pierce on the 11th. I'm making plans to attend the Bash PPV in Baltimore on 7/7 and it looks like the Philly bash will be either that next day or the day before so it'll be a special "Get Together" issue and you know how fun those are.

"Arena Report" is published twice per month at the cost of 75¢ per issue. A number appears at the top left corner of this page letting you know how many issues you have remaining on your sub. All subscriptions renewals, letters or match reports may be sent to Ron Lemieux, 916 Sloewood Ct. Lake Mary, FL 32746. Thanks to everyone for their support. I just wish I could get someone like Bam Bam Bigelow to back me as the Number 1 bulletin like Harvey Cobb did. Well, let's find out what happened post NWA PPV.

Opening Match

Tommy Rich pinned Jimmy Garvin in 12:36. They were doing a nice criss cross sequence when Rich hit Jimmy Jam with the Thesz press. Lots of stalling. Rich was a sub for Gilbert. * * *

2nd Match

Scott Steiner beat Michael Hayes in 12:25 with the frankensteiner. Hayes wouldn't work. They went to a five minute stall as P.S. tried to get heat with the fans. Dud

Tag Team Match

Norman & Mike Rotunda defeated Bam Bam Bigelow & Buddy Lee Parker (sub for Sullivan) in 10:15. Believe it or not, Parker was the best worker in this bout. At one point, Humperdink tripped Bigelow by accident. Norman sat on Parker for the pin and Bammer and Hump left him in the ring. Nice guys. *

World Tag Team Championship

Doom over Rock N' Roll Express at 21:10. Loudest pop was for an old man who was mimicking Teddy Long. Morton played the rag doll in this one. Gibson & Morton did the double dropkick on Simmons but while Long distracted the ref, Reed came off the top onto Gibson with an elbow and Ron Simmons pinned him. **

5th Match

In a bout that was to be Lex Luger vs. Mark Callous, Junkyard Dog substituted since Luger had surgery today. This was acknowledged to the fans before the card and refunds were available. JYD was introed on the PPV last night as returning. You don't even want to hear the finish of this one. Junkfood won in :39 (you read that right) as Callous punched him in the head and Mean (?) Mark acted like his hand hurt and JYD rolled him up for the pin. Yup, Ole is going to make a great booker. Let's call for his head already. Ooops, sorry Dennis. Sure, Callous is getting a push, straight to hell. -

Six Man Tag Match

Ric Flair, Arn Anderson, & Barry Windham beat Road Warriors & Rick Steiner in 20:00. Lots of good spots but no flow to the bout. Barry and Rick worked some great spots. They went into a six way and Barry and Flair gave Hawk a stuff piledriver and Barry scored the pin on the Roadie. Give him credit. I'm actually shocked they agreed to a clean job. ***

Notes

The crowd was 2,500 which Scott said was the lowest he can remember. Still can't get over that JYD victory.....Georgia All-Star drew 60 fans for a tourney to crown a champion in Lawrenceville, GA on 5/17. Nick Busich beat Mike Golden in the finals. Busich did a nasty juice job. For 60 people? Give me a break....They held Wrestling II's retirement match on 5/20 and he lost via count out to Randy Rose but Rose wouldn't accept the victory. Another weird finish.....Royal Family (Rip Morgan & Jack Victory) were on that show as well, as babyfaces....Terry Gordy's nephew, Richard Slinger appeared as well. He's short but he looks real good.....Thanks again to Scott for the Omni results and all the above info. ...Scott wants to thank all who have written "AR" with their kind comments on his contributions to this publication.

"Capital Combat" Recap

(More notes on the PPV in "Ramblings")

1) Road Warriors & Norman beat Kevin Sullivan, Cactus Jack, & Bam Bam Bigelow when Hawk clotheslined Sully from the top rope. Cactus took a couple of suicidal bumps once again. If I hadn't talked to this guy in Greensboro, I'd swear his elevator doesn't work, never mind go to the top.  2) Mark Callous beat Johnny Ace with an elbow from the top rope after a heartpunch. Heartpunch looked better without setting it up. Callous should be destroying these guys but after seeing Omni result,

Ramblings

Lots of you may be pissed that the NWA didn't deliver a title change once again but there are a couple of reasons for it. First of all, Lex Luger was due to have his knee scoped the day after the PPV. He'll miss about 2-3 weeks. Ole Anderson also feels that the big money feud is on Sting and Flair. I look for the Stinger to take the strap in Baltimore at the Bash PPV.....Kevin Sullivan worked the six man with a broken wrist. Explains why he looked so bad.....The brain trust at WCW forgot to bring straps to the show so they had to go to an S & M shop to buy cat o' nine tails. I don't know why, they didn't use them anyway.....The Midnight-Pillman & Zenk match went 5 minutes shorter than it was supposed to as Eaton and Pillman almost got sick as they both swallowed oil that Brian and Z man had put on their physiques..... As most of you heard, the Roadies will be headed to Titan as the Legion of Doom without their face paint. They will work through the end of May.....Related to that, Teddy Long had walked out briefly because he didn't feel he should do the job for Ellerat since he was leaving. I guess they compromised as my barber cuts more hair off of me than Long got shaved off.....I watched the show at Klon's house. He wanted to talk to the Horsemen live on the 900 line. But when he called, they never came on. Another promise undelivered. But he heard that JYD was coming back and I didn't believe him until I saw him at the show. Like Klon said, if they want to job Norman out, why bring in another cartoon character like JYD.....Furnas will be bringing in Dan Kroffat with him soon. Big Van Vader also will be NWA bound soon.....How did you like Missy Hyatt's announcing job? The next Mike McGuirk she isn't. (And McGuirk isn't even good!!!).....Titan can't fing the Slickster. Seems he didn't show up at the recent tapings. Akeem also has no showed recently. Maybe they went back to deepest darkest Africa to find their roots.....Watched some vintage Georgia stuff before the PPV. Great to watch Sullivan back then. What a difference.....Tom Zenk will do jobs for Barry Windham soon.....Earthquake injured Hulk Hogan at the recent tapings. Should be on Brother Love this weekend.....Why the huge push for Tugboat all of a sudden. I thought they were changing his gimmick?.... Trouble in the Gilbert-Hyatt stable.....I don't know about you, but I'm excited about Stan Hansen invading WCW. At his first taping in Indianapoli he sent Paul Drake to the hospital when he larieted him in the face by accident. He was probably too wound up.....El Gigante? El garbage if you ask me.....Kendall Windham has turned face in PWF. Also, Mike Graham and Joe Gomez won the Florida tag belts. Joe who??? Look how great their doing with their money.....Some of you have heard rumors of the NWA being up for sale. Last week I herd they had been sold, they folded. You name it, I herd it. Nothing new on that front. All the parties are denying it, but some negotiating is going on with Comcast which is a major cable company. Talk is they would turn into a TV promotion and cancel all house shows.....Jonnie Stewart was brought in as a replacement for Eddie Gilbert who tore his rotater cuff.....6/22 at Langley Air Force Bas in Virginia will see Buddy Landell meet Bill Mulkey on top for the International Title. How do you like that? Bill Mulkey made it big.....ICW drew 150 in Presque Isle, ME on 5/13 for TV tapes and Scott Dickinson's debut as the Cryptkeeper, who seconds the Undertakers Sort of like a Kim Chee.....Congrats to reader Bruce and Michele Ginevan on their wedding.....5/17 in Tampa for PWF saw Kendall Windham over Robert Fuller via DQ and Steve M eirn turn back Jim Backlund.....5/5 in Wooster, OH saw the 63 year old Bobo Brazil beat Crusher Davidson via count out..... There is a convention being promoted by Chris Love in Minneapolis from August 3-5. For more info, contact Bruce Grummert at 1212 D St., Lincoln, NE 68502.....For anyone interested in joining the Heidi Lee Morgan fan club, write to her at 274 Route 40, Newfield, NJ 08344.....Jeff Cohen

My idol, Jim Herd, and I were tooling around the universe in my cosmobile. It was just before all the rumors hit the fan about the sale of the NWA and just after Jim had made the decision to name Ole Anderson (and not me) as NWA head booker.

You'll remember from my last column that I was in the running. I think I would have been a sure in, but it was probably one of my creative booking ideas that gave Jim second thoughts. It was either my idea about Ric Flair doing UWF Japanese-style wrestling matches against guys like Akira Maeda and Nobuhiko Takada, or the gimmick I had about the NWA holding a title match between two "invisible" wrestlers. Hey, think about it. No injuries. Great interviews with Cornette. No worry about no-shows. No hassle over who does the "job". Etc. At any event, I was not destined to get the job and my buddy Jim was about to break the news to me, gentle-like.

So, Jim had agreed to join me for a spin in my nifty little time and space warp machine, which I call the Stardust Rhodester (named after you know who).

We were really out there, man! I mean we were out there in space beyond the ozone layer and the steroid belt, beyond the Sputnik Monroe Galaxy and the Von Erich Zone, and we were approaching a huge Black Hole in space, the kind that would make Stephen W. Hawking leap out of his seat and do back flips (yes, Marilyn, that was another one of those disgusting, insipid, sarcastic, malignant "inside" jokes that only we cliquish cosmologist type wrestling fans will enjoy).

"Gee," muttered Jim, "that Black Hole reminds me of the NWA lately. We've got a lot going on, but none of it seems to be getting anywhere, unless this Robocop thing pops 'em big time. We've had such bad luck, with all the injuries, the sniping in the sheets, and that big guy named Hitchcock and his sign-carrying goons in the front rows at house and PPV shows!. It's like everything I touch collapses in on itself and no matter what I do, we never seem to catch up with the WWF. Oh, by the way, I've picked Ole as head booker and not you or Greggie or the Cowboy."

"Not the Cowboy, eh? Why not? Was it because he wanted to by-pass you and deal directly with Jack Petrik?

"No, it was worse than that. Much, much worse."

"How much worse?"

"About as bad as that Hitchcock stuff," Jim said, his voice rising. "You remember what Hitchcock did at WrestleWar in Greensboro, when he held up that awful sign about me and it got on TV and made me a laughing stock. Well, the Cowboy pulled a 'Hitchcock' on me."

"How?"

Jim shifted in his seat and cast a weary glance across the star flecked tapestry outside the Rhodester and just beyond the huge Black Hole which continued to suck-up everything around it, sort of like the NWA electro-luxing all of Ted Turner's cash. Finally, Jim spoke.

"The Cowboy and I were negotiating terms. I tried to pull on him what I did to Ricky Steamboat, but no sale. That wiley coyote saw it coming and ducked. He wanted to use blood, Jersey Joe! But I pretended I thought he said, 'Bud', and offered him a beer. We negotiated back and forth, for hours, and then all we could agree on was that we both needed to take a pit stop. That's when he 'Hitchcocked' me."

"How?" I asked again.

"We were in the men's restroom, you know, the one Wade Keller of Pro Wrestling Torch is always mentioning in his Hot News stories. I was in one stall and the Cowboy was in an adjoining stall right next to mine and darn, wouldn't you know it, with my luck, my stall was plumb out of, uh, the family tissue stuff. I asked the Cowboy if he'd slide me a few sheets from the supply on his side..."

"Well?" I urged. "What did he do?"

"The Cowboy played his hole card," Jim said. "He said, 'Only if you hire me and let me deal directly with Petrik!' I guess that's when I started yelling and ranting and banging on the wall and told him there was no way in h--- I'd hire a man who'd send me up paddle creek with out a sheet!"

I looked out across the vast expanse of space and wondered if they had pro wrestling on some other planet in some other distant solar system. I said, "Well? Did the Cowboy ever slide you some Charmin?"

"Yes," Jim muttered.

"So, what's the big deal?"

"He slid me only a single sheet!"

"And...?"

"And on it he'd written, 'I'VE HERD ENOUGH!' It was the final straw!" He 'Hitchcocked' me!"

"Hey, pal," I said, turning the Rhodester in a big one-eighty for a warp-speed run back to Earth. "I can see now why you chose Ole."

"Yeh," said Jim. "Ole'd never pull a stunt like that. Never!"

"Yeh," I agreed. "Ole would slide you at least three or four sheets, man. Why his heart is as big and wide as that ol' Black Hole!"

Correspondent: Bruce Ginevan

1) Eddie Gilbert and Kevin Sullivan went to a double count out. They brawled in the lower concourse. B 2) Paul Ellering beat Teddy Long as Sugar Ray had brass knucks in his boxing glove but when Paul took it away, Teddy walked out. F 3) Norman pinned Cactus Jack. C, all for Manson. 4) Brian Pillman defeated Rip Morgan. Match was too long and no one cared. D 5) Rick Steiner & Road Warrior Animal beat Wrecking Crew II in a stretcher match. Scott and Hawk no showed. Rick hit Wrecking Bloom with a clothesline in the aisle and they put him on a stretcher and carried him out. C 6) Lex Luger pinned Ric Flair in a cage match that was a non-title affair. Both bled. B

Letters To "A.R."

Family Feud

Just finished watching the first three episodes of "Wrestler's Week" on "Family Feud". As usual, I find myself thinking like an "insider" in those instances that are even remotely related to pro wrestling--prompting the following question that I know only you (and your contacts like Harry White, Jeff Zinger, and J.Z. Travis) can answer:

While the WCW boys and the GLOW girls were out in sunny California, who put the moves on whom--and did any of these advances result in a "pinfall", if you know what I mean!?

Seemed to me like Animal really had the hearts for Godiva ( $\frac{1}{4}$), though Hollywood ( $\frac{1}{2}$) appeared to be the easiest pickings and Babe, The Farmer's Daughter ( $\frac{3}{4}$) was my personal favorite.

Looking forward to reading about what went on "behind the scenes".

Jeff Siegel

Evanston, IL

RL- I do know one thing. Rick Steiner almost boycotted the show because Mt. Fiji wasn't booked for the taping. Maybe Zingman can get the scoop on the rest of the action.

From Abroad

Losing WWF on cable TV has ruined my interest in wrestling a bit over the last two months all because of our cable company who got rid of the best TV company around (Sky) and start showing some new company B.S.B who actually do show wrestling but it's NWA which I can't get into. I thought Wrestlemania dragged on a bit but overall, it was an enjoyable show and the main event was brilliant.

Matt Caulder

Sittingbourne Kent, England

RL- Can Sky come and take WWF off my cable? Just kidding all you Whiff diehards.

Rundling

That's okay, your forgiven for the NWA goose chase. That's an easy mistake to make. After all, Kingston, NY is almost synonymous with Kingsport, TN!! But....no problem. It was a learning experience. When I called the sports department of the Kingston paper to see what they knew about the NWA coming to town, I learned that "my dear, profesional wrestling is not a sport." But, that's okay...no problem. I didnt give my name. I didn't give the two radio stations my name either. Nor, finally, the Chamber of Commerce, where they clued me in that "There is no Civic Center in Kingston, NY, you must mean Kingsport, TN- people are always getting the two places confused." So, I said, well FINE, I get the picture...NO PROBLEM!

My WMVI trip was alot of fun and so was doing the article. Thanks! And the title you gave it was pretty clever. Now, about that goofy Jersey person.....I thought I was the "zinger" (RL- Are you and Jeff related? Oh, sorry about the insult.) but now I have a sneaky suspicion I might actually be the "zingee". Well it ain't over till its over! At least this time I understood the "inside remarks"!

By the way, when do we get that biography you've been telling us is forthcoming? And while I'm thinking of it, going weekly with your newsletter does sound like a pretty good idea. You know eventually your going to have to do it, so now is as good a time as any to start. Stop whining, you already got through the first two weeks!

Marilyn Rundle
New Paltz, NY

RL- Man, what a pushy br.. (the Zinger in me almost came out.) woman. Actually Marilyn, my bio may be in this issue if I don't get a column soon from that "goofy Jersey person". Seriously, it's coming.

of 50 Shelley Lane, Great Neck, NY 11023 puts out Fantasy Federation for a dollar per issue. This newsletter focuses on matchups between stars in different federations going against each other. Jeff sort of "books" the bouts between them. Give it a try.....Lance Levine puts out "Chokehold" and if you've never seen it, your missing out on some fun reading. There is an age requirement of 18 years or older so parental discretion is advised. Just kidding of course. It sells for a buck an issue and you can reach the happy pappy at 3113 S. Parnell, Chicago, IL 60616. Speaking of Lance, I asked him for advice when we have our child. Am I asking the right guy?.....I was all set to rip the NWA for the status of the TV title. What happened to the 30 day rule and all that? As you know, Arn Anderson has been out for some time with his injury. But what do I see when looking through a recent Apter mag? You got it.....NWA in Orlando on 6/9 has Flair-Rick Steiner with Sid and Sting in respective corners, Windham-Luger(who may not be back yet), Doom-Roadies (will have to change), and Rotunda-Bigelow (who'll be in Japan). See, once again they have to change the card and some is their fault if they keep billing certain people..... The TV tapings in Ft. Pierce on the 11th has Luger-Windham, Flair & Arn vs. Roadies (change that one too) and Callous-Rotunda announced..... Mean Mark's push has fizzled and it's not his fault. The booking for this guy has been the absolute worst. He should have destroyed everyone in his path.....If anyone is going to Baltimore for the PPV, let me know. I already know of a bunch of fans heading up for it and it should be a great time.

no comment. 3) * 3) Samoan Swat Team beat Mike Rotunda & Tommy Rich as the Samoan Savage came off the top rope onto Tommy as he had Fatu in a sleeper hold. All looked good except for "Wildfire". Rotunda is one solid worker.  4) Paul Ellering beat Teddy Long in a hair match as he knocked out Sugar Ray with Long's own "international object. Fans got ripped off as Long didn't get shaves bald. -* 5) Midnight Express beat Brian Pillman & Tom Zenk to win the U.S. Tag Titles. This got a huge pop. Lane gave Zenk a ghettoblaster and Eaton rolled Z Man for the win.  6) Rock N' Roll Express beat Freebirds in a Corporal Non-punishment match as Morton sunset flipped Hayes while Michael was going for the DDT on Gibson. Didn't understand the concept of this match. Straps were used maybe three times. Rip off. Tired of the Birds. * 7) Doom beat The Steiners to win the World Tag belts as Simmons pulled Rick off the top rope while he had Reed up for a suplex. Butch fell on top for the pin. Good bout.  8) Lex Luger beat Ric Flair via DQ due to outside interference from Barry Windham (again?). I liked the action during the finish as there was alot to follow. El Gigante is alost cause and they shouldn't let him near a ring. I'm sure the fans went home pissed. Heels won titles and main face gets obliterated. Flair did a great juice job. Super psychotic interview in the runway as well. I go in between on this show. Not up or down. Good workrate but too many inconsistancies in the angles. Why was Woman allowed in the cage?
